Lions Open Season with Home Victory

The 2022-23 Castleberry High School boys' basketball season got underway in early November. They opened with a home game against the Palmer Bulldogs on Nov. 22. In a game that early looked like a cake walk for the Lions, then turned into a dogfight, eventually saw the Lions slowly pull away in the second half for a 52-42 victory.

Castleberry jumped out to a 17-5 lead in the first quarter. The team was led by seniors Eddie Hernandez (#1) who scored 8 points, and Amin Ba-Ahmad (#23) with 7 points. But the Bulldogs came roaring back in the second quarter, mainly the result of some excellent 3-point shooting.

After going 0-7 from the 3-point line in the opening quarter, the Bulldogs connected on three of their first five 3-point attempts in the second quarter. They finished 4-10 in the quarter. The Lions still led 22-19 with under 2 minutes to play in the half. But with 14.2 seconds left the Bulldogs hit a bucket and drew a foul on the play. They made the free throw to complete an old fashioned "3 point play" and tied the game 22-22. Even though there was still time for the Lions to get off a good shot – they had to settle for a long contested 3-point attempt which they missed. Score remained tied at halftime.

The Lions moved back ahead, 24-22, to open the third quarter. But at the 7:16 mark of the quarter, the Bulldogs took the lead (25-24) on a 3-point shot. This was only the second time Palmer had seen the lead since they led 2-0 to open the game. It would also prove to be their last time to lead in the game. Sophomore Everitt Arellano (#12) hit a bucket on a great assist from Hernandez (#1) and gave the lead back to the Lions for good at 26-25. The rest of the third quarter belonged to Ba-Ahmad (#23) who scored 11 points.

With 1:22 left in the quarter the Lions led by just 2 points, 34-32. But they closed the quarter on a 6-0 run (all by Ba-Ahmad) to take a 38-32 into the final quarter.

The Bulldogs fought hard in the final quarter but the Lions responded to each challenge. Palmer got to within 4 points of the Lions early in the quarter (38-34), but that was as close as they would come. The Lions were very bal- (continued on page 2) anced in their scoring in the final quarter. Four Lions scored in the quarter. They were led by sophomore Demetrius Valadez (#3) with 6 points.

The Lions worked hard and eventually won 52-42. All 5 starters helped the cause and scored points in the game. They were led by Ba-Ahmad (#23) with 18 points, followed by Hernandez (#1) with 14 points. The balanced scoring was rounded out senior Miguel Huerta (#21) with 8 points, and Valadez (#3) and Arellano (#12) who both scored 6 points.

The Lions play away tonight at Venus High School.

Five Ways to Protect Your Holiday Budget

It may be the season of cheer, but for many, the holidays are rife with anxiety about expenses. A recent survey shows that staying on budget is Americans' top concern this holiday season, followed by incurring long-term debt, shipping costs and being charged late or hidden fees.

Here are five tips to protect your holiday budget:

1. Set a spending cap with friends and family. Americans plan to spend $998 on gifts this holiday season, according to the National Retail Federation. 'Tis the season for giving, but make sure you don't overspend. Know your budget up front and communicate that with loved ones. Another idea to limit spending is to put everyone's name into a hat. Each person draws one name and buys a gift for just the person they selected. You can add a bit of intrigue by keeping the identity of your recipient a secret until you open gifts!

2. Take advantage of deal days. Timing is everything for getting the best prices. Do your homework in advance to pay significantly less. Super Saturday before Christmas is great for last-minute gifts.

3. Purchase gift cards to easily track spending. Gift cards are a popular, convenient gift, but some would-be buyers may hesitate to purchase them out of fear that the business may end up closing, especially those still struggling during the ongoing pandemic.

4. Track when products are discounted with a browser extension. Do you want the best deals but don't have the time to spend searching for them? There are extensions you can download on web browsers that will compare prices and even apply the best coupon codes at checkout.

5. Use credit card rewards. You've earned those points throughout the year and now is a great time to cash them in. The simplest way to use points is for gift cards, as it's one of the top requested gifts and there are many categories to choose from, including restaurants, clothing and grocery stores. Another option is to take advantage of the money saved from a statement credit to cover the expense of holiday gifts.

Being mindful of your spending now can help you have a low-stress holiday season and start the new year off on the right foot.

Animator, Cartoonist, Director and Actor - Tex Avery by Dr. Ken Bridges

Cartoons have captivated and delighted children, and the young at heart, for generations. As the motion picture industry surfaced, cartoons became a staple feature of the matinee. As television later emerged, they became normal fare on Saturday mornings and late afternoons after school. Even in the modern age of DVD players and wireless streaming, they still delight audiences of all ages. Young children still enjoy discovering and watching the same cartoons from as early as the 1930s and 1940s that their parents and grandparents grew up watching. One of the early and most important pioneers of animation was a Texan known simply as Tex Avery.

Frederick Bean Avery was born in Taylor, just northeast of Austin in 1908. The family moved to Dallas when he was still young. He later attended North Dallas High School where he occasionally drew cartoons for the student newspaper and yearbook; and students often greeted each other with, "What's up, Doc?" He graduated in 1926 and took a summer drawing course at the Art Institute of Chicago before returning to Texas.

In 1928, he and a few friends took a train trip to California. Avery struggled at first, taking menial jobs loading the docks or painting cars while sleeping on the beach at night. Within a few months, he landed a job at Universal Studios painting the animated cels for their different cartoon productions. Along the way, he picked up the nickname "Tex." He began looking at the different stages of cartoon production, slowly mastering the process. Many of the cartoons he worked on were for the "Oswald the Lucky Rabbit" series, an early creation of Walt Disney. Avery wrote his first cartoon story in 1932 and even offered voices on some of the early cartoons. He ultimately worked on dozens of different stories in his years with Universal. By 1934, he directed the first of 143 cartoons in his career.

He lost his job with Universal in 1935 and began working at Warner Brothers Studio a few months later. He immediately began working on the emerging Looney Tunes series. Avery and his crew created such characters as Daffy Duck, Elmer Fudd, and Bugs Bunny, who gained the name from a nickname for one of the staff animators. It was Avery's idea, remembering his high school days, to give Bugs Bunny his classic "What's up, Doc?" catchphrase in 1941.

Avery often said, "In a cartoon, you can do anything." He thus encouraged writers and animators at the studio to be creative and appeal to both adults and children in the audience.

While children enjoyed the vibrant imagery and slapstick comedy, adults could enjoy the subtle political and social satire that was often on display. While he worked well with his fellow animators, he often clashed with his own superiors. He left Warner Brothers in 1941 and began working for MGM.

At MGM, Avery helped direct and write cartoons promoting the war effort during World War II. He also began directing and writing stories for the Droopy and Barney Bear cartoons. He also directed many of the Tom and Jerry cartoons produced in the 1940s and early 1950s.

He left MGM in 1954 and began working with his old colleague from Universal, Walter Lantz. Here, he helped produce the Woody Woodpecker cartoons. By the late 1950s, Avery moved on to animated commercials before retiring in the early 1970s.

He spent more than 40 years working in animation in his long career, working alongside some of the most important animators and writers and creators in the history of the genre, leaving his own, unmistakable imprint on animation and giving the world so many memorable characters.

Tex Avery died at his home in California in 1980, leaving behind animated stories that will continue to delight for many more years.

From Carter BloodCare

Community Blood Drive Dec. 9

This holiday season, residents are invited to give a gift that makes a lifesaving difference for neighbors in need. Donating blood helps local patients in urgent need of transfusions because of surgeries, severe trauma, cancer treatments, organ transplants, difficulties during childbirth, and age-related health issues.

The need for blood is nonstop, even during the holidays. In fact, every two seconds, someone needs a lifesaving transfusion.

The Friends of the Benbrook Library will host a Carter BloodCare community blood drive on Friday, Dec. 9 from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Carter BloodCare Bus in the parking lot of Library located at 1065 Mercedes Street in Benbrook.

Those wishing to donate are requested to select a time slot when you sign up online.

First Monday Quilt Club - Project Linus Christmas Party

The First Monday Quilt Club will meet at Bethany Christian Church located at 1500 Meadow Park Drive in White Settlement from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 5.

Volunteers are asked to bring one unwrapped toy for the Toys for Tots Christmas program, brunch snacks or Christmas goodies to share during the party, and a wrapped (inexpensive or white elephant) gift for a gift exchange. Come join the fun as we celebrate together.

Project Linus is a non-profit service organization. The members of this group are Tarrant County Chapter Project Linus volunteers who create handmade quilts and blankets that provide love, warmth, and comfort for local children who have suffered trauma, tragedy, or illness.

Volunteers also make coverlets for veterans, nursing home residents, and the homeless. Unfortunately, the need for these blankets increases each month. They desperately need volunteers with portable sewing machines to help assemble the quilts.

No experience is needed - there is a place for you. Anyone can help if you can follow instructions, sew, tie a knot, crochet a blanket, or tell a good joke. Volunteers have lots of fun and develop fantastic friendships. High school students can receive community service credits for participating.

Materials (fabric, batting, thread, and yarn) are provided. Donations of fabric, yarn, thread, sewing machines, sergers, or money to purchase materials are greatly appreciated.

Come join the fun and enjoy fellowship with the Quilt Club volunteers while you make a difference in our community by being a blessing to others.

For more information, visit www.projectlinus.org. For questions about this group and meetings, call Virginia Biela at 817-244-1263.
