Local Veterans Receive Quilts of Valor

The mission of Quilts of Valor (QOV) Foundation is to provide comforting and healing quilts to veterans and service members who have been affected by war. The quilts are a token of appreciation for their service, sacrifice and valor. This foundation was started in 2003 by Catherine Roberts, a Blue Star Mom, after her son was deployed to Iraq. She was inspired to start this foundation after having a dream about her son wrapped in a quilt, which transformed his demeanor from despair to hope.

Hundreds of quilters across our nation make these quilts with love and gratitude and over 401,000 have been presented. On Nov. 19, nine veterans received their quilts from Cecilia Burkholz, QOV Group Leader Texas and the Fort Worth Quilt Guild, at Westside Church of Christ. Recipients also received a Proclamation from President Biden. Family relatives and friends enjoyed light refreshments after the ceremony that was enjoyed by everyone who participated. ## Winter Sports Underway at BHS

The Brewer boy's basketball team lost a tough one to Dallas Woodrow Wilson just before the Thanksgiving holiday last week by a score of 60-47.

The Bears struggled early in the game and coach Jason Porostovsky said they were never able to mount a comeback.

"We dug ourselves an early deficit, tried to battle back in the third quarter but could not make the big play when needed," Porostovsky said.

Obituary

Buckley Harden Rue

Buckley Harden Rue, son and only child of Carroll and Debra Harden Rue, was born Oct. 29, 1990 in New York City and left this world from Ponca City, Okla. to make music with the angels on Sept. 10, 2024.

Buckley was talented in many areas and had many interests. He started playing baseball at the age of 4, gained several belts in karate and took piano lessons. He attended Waverly Park Elementary School through Fort Worth Public Schools and attended Fort Worth Academy where he played football and acquired his taste for acting playing Snoopy in “You’re A Good Man, Charlie Brown.” Buckley was baptized and grew up in the Western Hills United Methodist Church where he sang in the Children’s Choir and was a vital participant in the WHUMC and Benbrook Methodist Church youth groups.

He attended Western Hills High School in Fort Worth where he played baseball and appeared in theatrical productions which went to Texas UIL State competitions. He was a Vice President of the Cougar Choir and still holds the Fort Worth record of receiving Superior ratings at Texas District and State Vocal Solo competitions as well as qualifying and performing in Texas Music Educators Honor Choirs all four years in high school. His high school and another Fort Worth high school had teamed up to perform musicals every summer. They were selected from three finalists in a national competition by the Disney Corporation to perform the first staged production of High School Musical. Buckley portrayed the leading male character, Troy. He also appeared in the accompanying filmed documentary which aired on the Disney Channel’s, The Music in You!

Buckley was Vice President of his senior class and planned their recent 15 year reunion. He also served on the Fort Worth Mayor’s Youth Advisory Board and was a member of the National Honor Society, a Texas Music Scholar and an All American Scholar. He graduated in the top ten of his class with honors in 2009.

Buckley was proud to be a Texas Longhorn and graduated from the University of Texas in Austin 2014 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Religious Studies and a minor in Psychology. He was a member of Sigma Pi fraternity and helped organize the yearly “Shattered Dreams” project, a street performance showcasing the dangers of drunk driving.

As a writer Buckley had published two novels and was working on a third. He loved to research and was an avid reader. He entertained as a DJ of electronic music, wrote reviews of major music festivals across the country and was invited to speak at seminars on various topics.

Predeceased are both sets of grandparents Buck and Clara Rue, Ernest and Betty Harden, Uncle Dennis Harden, Aunt Joyce Rue Green and his faithful cocker spaniel, Rosie.

Those remaining to cherish memories are his parents; best friend, Bree Lerner of Austin; God Sisters Julia Ward of Dallas, and Simone Carreon; God Daughter Zoe Gonzalez of Austin; with a host of family and friends across the country.

A Celebration of Life organized by festival administrators was held on Oct.17, 2024 at the Astronox Music Festival located in the Valkyrie Ranch outside Austin, TX which was attended by family and friends.

Protecting Animals of White Settlement Foster a Shelter Pet for the Holidays

This holiday season, bring joy to a shelter animal, and your home, by participating in our Home for the Holidays foster program. Here’s your chance to make Christmas unforgettable for a deserving dog or cat, while allowing our dedicated staff to spend time with their families. The best part? If you fall in love with your holiday pet, you’ll have the chance to make them a permanent member of your family!

How It Works

- Sign up - Send an email to animalcontrol@wstx.us to receive a questionnaire and foster form to fill out in advance. Be sure to bring your pre-filled foster form on the 23.

- Pick Your Pet - On Monday, Dec. 23, visit us to choose your holiday foster pet, bring your current dogs with you to do a meet and greet! Want to pick one out early? Drop by anytime the week before to see who we have. You’re welcome to visit anytime the week before to choose your pet in advance, but please note that we can’t guarantee availability, as the event is first-come, first-served, and animals may be adopted prior to Dec. 23.

- Take Your Pet Home - On Dec. 23, pick up your furry friend and take them home, with supplies provided by the shelter.

- Return Date - Pets will be returned on Dec. 26 (or arrange an alternate later date with our team).

*Note: We want to remind you that pets cannot be returned before Dec. 26, unless a serious emergency arises.

For questions or more details, give us a call at 817-246-1043.

Make a difference this holiday season, and help a shelter animal feel the warmth and love of a home for Christmas.

play in the Decatur Invitational Tournament this coming weekend and Porostovsky said he expects a it to be an opportunity to gain some valuable playing experience.

“This will be our first tourney of the year and right now we need the games to continue to find our path to success,” Porostovsky said. “We are looking forward to competing again after the Thanksgiving break.”

On the girl's side, the Lady Bears defeated Royce City by a score of 60-50 last week to improve to 9-6 on the regular season.

The victory came on the heels of a 47-42 win over Mesquite Po-teet. Brewer had won five of their last six games heading into Tues-day night's match up with Wylie.

Earlier this month, players Julie Kasonga and Aolani Woldai signed letters of commitment to play at the college level. Kasonga signed her letter of intent to play for Texas Women's University and Woldai signed with the University of Texas at El Paso.

In cheer, Brewer recently received a great honor when they was selected as one of the top spirit teams in the state of Texas.

Each year, Dave Campell's Texas Football teams up with Ken-dra Scott to name the top 10 spirit teams from around the state and the Brewer spirit team was selected this year.

The team received a commemorative football and a $250 dona-tion at the Bears' Nov. 1 game against Denton Ryan.

From General Edward H. Tarrant Chapter of the National Society United States Daughters of 1812

Lineage Societies Come Together for Fall Meeting

The joint meeting of the Honorable Philip Livingston Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists and the General Edward Tarrant Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812 was held Nov. 14 at Ridglea Country Club.

Dr. Linda Hines introduced the guest speaker, Gary Foreman, who presented the program Finding One's Self in History. Foreman is an Emmy nominated director whose documentary, First Invasion: The War of 1812, was produced by the History Channel and first aired on Nov. 9, 2004. He was also a field producer and historical consultant for the A&E production of The American Revolution which started the programming for The History Channel. Since then, he has produced and directed dozens of historical programs about America's early beginnings for several networks.

DAC HPL Regent Gwen Boyd presented Foreman with a certificate and a donation in his honor to the American Indian Scholarship fund through the RAIN Program.

The National Society Daughters of the American Colonists provides scholarship monies to the RAIN (Recruitment/Retention of American Indians into Nursing) Program in the Nursing and Professional Disciplines at the University of North Dakota. The RAIN

Program was initiated in 2013 and was designed to increase the number of nurses prepared to provide health care to Indian people. A total of 240 nurses have graduated with a Bachelors of Science in nursing. Of that 70 have received their Masterss of Science and two have become Nurse Practitioners.

The joint gathering concluded with a United States Daughters of 1812 induction ceremony, where 1812 President Lori Duhon and Registrar Lisa Kight-Alcala welcomed new members Trish Bowen, Kathy Nobles and Connie Brawley.

The Daughters of the American Colonists and the U. S. Daughters of 1812 are non-profit, non-political volunteer service organizations and lineage societies.

For more information about how to find ancestors or information about these programs, please email gdboyd7@yahoo.com for Daughters of the American Colonists, and lineagesocieties@att.net for Daughters of 1812.

Prospective members are always welcome in either society.

Chapter Registrar Lisa Kight-Alcala, new members Trish Bowen, Kathy Nobles and Connie Brawley, Chapter President Lori Duhon.

Texas History Minute, by Dr. Ken Bridges

American Pharmacologist and Biochemist Dr. Alfred Gilman

“Always hire people who do something useful better than you do . . . Life will be much more interesting and you will be much more successful, if you define success as actually getting something done,” once wrote Dr. Alfred Gilman.

Gilman, a Dallas-based researcher, employed many students and scientists in his labs as he researched the innermost workings of cells in the body, work that led to the Nobel Prize. His research led to radically new understandings of how cells worked and ultimately inspired other scientists to develop new techniques in medicine and important advances in cancer research.

The future Nobel laureate was born Alfred Goodman Gilman in Connecticut in July 1941. His father was Dr. Alfred Zack Gilman, a Yale University professor and researcher who was respected throughout the medical community for his important writings on the study of pharmacology and early studies of chemotherapy as a cancer treatment. When he was young, the family moved to White Plains, New York, a suburb of New York City, where his father worked as a professor at Columbia University.

As a young man, he inherited his father’s fascination with science. After graduating high school, he enrolled at Yale University. He graduated with a bachelors degree in biochemistry in 1962. He entered graduate school at Case Western Reserve University in Ohio. He was reluctant at first to get a doctorate in pharmacology, the study of drugs, their effects, and their interactions, as he wanted an identity somewhat separate from his father. He was talked into it and was swept up by the research and new discoveries unfolding before him and obtained a medical degree as well by 1969.

He worked briefly as a researcher for the National Institutes of Health. In 1971, Gilman took a position as a pharmacology professor at the University of Virginia School of Medicine where he published articles on cellular chemicals. He was hired in 1981 to become the chairman of the pharmacology department at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas.

Gilman discovered what became known as a “G protein,” which helps cells “communicate” with each other on a chemical level, helping a chemical message received from one cell activate a chemical reaction within the receiving cell in response, also called a transducer. Through his research, scientists were able to better understand how cells received information from each other, processed those messages, and acted in response.

In a series of experiments in the late 1970s and early 1980s, he began working with lymphoma cells and noticed the unusual properties they had on the molecular level. In lymphoma cells, the cell itself could receive chemical signals from other cells but could not produce chemicals or enzymes in response. In the process of becoming cancerous, the cell had lost the protein that allowed it to process outside instructions. Once a G protein was re-introduced into these cells, they could process these chemicals and produce new chemicals in response. While this did not change a cancer cell back into a healthy cell, scientists better understood how cancer behaved in the body.

In other words, Gilman’s work identified how cancer cells changed on a molecular level and how cancer cells and healthy cells interacted. This proved an important breakthrough as researchers began researching new cancer treatments at the cellular and genetic levels.

Once they better understood how cancer cells formed, mutated, and spread, they began to find ways to more accurately target cancer cells with chemotherapy and radiation therapy as well as developing new surgical techniques. As doctors and researchers applied these new ideas in the 1980s and 1990s, cancer survival rates began to climb significantly. Further, scientists could also develop better techniques and medications for a variety of diseases since they better understood how damaged cells worked.

The breakthrough was so important that Gilman and biochemist Dr. Martin Robdell, was awarded the Nobel Prize for Physiology or Medicine in 1994 for their discovery of the G protein and subsequent research into it. Gilman noted with some humility, “You can expect to have some good luck if you are working hard on a tractable problem and taking reasonable approaches. The trick is to recognize good luck when it happens. . .” The research by Gilman and Robdell spurred dramatic changes in medical research.

In 2004, he was promoted to dean of the medical school and eventually rose to vice-president by 2006. He retired in 2009. Gilman had long been thankful for the opportunity to learn from a number of Nobel Prize winners during his years in college and as a young researcher. In his later years, Gilman became an outspoken advocate of science education in Texas schools and condemned efforts to dilute teaching of evolution in public schools. For a scientist such as Gilman who had spent his career researching cells on the molecular level, evolution was obvious. And understanding evolution was critical to research in modern medicine and genetics. He died in 2015 at age 74.

Research has allowed medicine to cure many diseases that were once death sentences. As medicine progresses, the most important element in any treatment or vaccine is hope.
