Basketball: Boys and Girls Teams Defeat Granbury; Both to Face Aledo Jan. 14

The Brewer boy's basketball team improved to 3-0 in district competition this past Friday with a 49-42 victory over Granbury.

Coach Jason Porostovsky said that his team competed at a high level throughout most of the game with a few hiccups along the way.

"We came out and set the tone defensively in the first half, holding them to 12 points," Porostovsky said. "We had some break-downs defensively in the third quarter, but was able to get the stops when we needed them to pull out the 49-42 victory."

Porostovsky said a few players had stand out performances in the game for the Bears.

"Calvin Rweyemamu had 11 points," Porostovsky said. "Jayden Jones had 11 and Nash Pena had 17 points, hitting 9 of 10 free throws late in the game to seal the victory."

Brewer will be in it's bye tomorrow night. Porostovsky the bye this will will provide his team the opportunity to fine tune it's game plan and work out any concerns he has going forward.

"Each game in this district is evenly matched," Porostovsky said. "Being prepared and executing will ultimately be the deciding factors. We will use the bye to make sure we are all on the same page with any new wrinkles we feel may help us."

The Bears will play next at 8 p.m. on Jan. 14 at Aledo.

On the girl's side, Brewer defeated Granbury by a score 64-38 last Friday and have now won six straight games.

The Lady Bears are 5-0 in district and improved to 18-8 overall on the regular season.

The Brewer girls will also be in their bye week on Friday and will play next at 6:30 p.m. on Jan. 14 at Aledo.

WSPD Launches UNIDOS Community Engagement Program

The White Settlement Police Department is launching a new community engagement program, UNIDOS, tailored after the highly successful platform created by Allen Police Chief Steve Dye in 2002.

UNIDOS is a Hispanic community outreach program designed to help Spanish-speaking residents in the west Fort Worth and White Settlement area. UNIDOS meetings will be held monthly at the White Settlement Law Enforcement Center.

The goal of the UNIDOS program is to provide generic information and resources for Spanish-speaking residents. While there may be some law enforcement discussion, majority of the programming is geared towards everyday qual- (continued on page 6)

Waste Collection Services - Bulk Pick Up

Curbside bulk pickup will take place every other month. Bulk piles can be 7 cubic yards in size, or about 8 feet long, 6 feet deep, and 4 feet tall. For reference, your trash carts are about 1 cubic yard in size, meaning an acceptable bulk pile would be about 7 carts large. The placement period for curbside bulk is the weekend prior to your bulk pickup week and should be placed along your front yard curb line away from obstructions like mailboxes, fences, trees, or parked vehicles.

Bulk piles can contain limbs or bundles of limbs that are cut to 3 feet in length, brush, yard waste, furniture, appliances without refrigerant, and debris from small home improvement projects. Piles may not contain tires, household hazardous waste, electronics, garbage, construction debris, batteries, medical waste, gasoline, and car parts.

If you've got extra bulk, there are some great options for you.

The monthly Community Clean Up events will continue, providing a great opportunity each month to drop off your bulk items. You can also contact Frontier Waste Solutions directly to request an additional bulk pickup for just $15 per cubic yard. Contact Frontier Waste at 1-888-854-2905.

Community Clean Up dates for 2025 are as follows: March 15, April 12, May 17, June 21, Sept. 20, Oct. 18 and Nov. 15. The event will be held on these Saturdays only from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Residents must obtain a voucher from the utility billing customer service prior to the cleanup event, and you must bring an active residential water bill and a valid drivers license. Only one drop-off is allowed per voucher, per event.

Appliances containing freon, tires, electronics, or household hazardous waste cannot be accepted. Dumping outside of designated dates and times is prohibited, per Ordinance 30.47(C)1-11.

To find out your bulk pickup week, CLICK HERE for the interactive route map or consult the graphic.

For questions, contact White Settlement Customer Service at 817-246-4971, option 1.

From the North Central Texas Council of Governments

NCTCOG to Host Hybrid Public Meeting Monday

NCTCOG is looking for input on transportation initiatives during a public meeting at noon on Monday, Jan. 13. This meeting will be held at NCTCOG headquarters, located at 616 Six Flags Drive, in Arlington. Those who are unable to attend in person will be able to watch the meeting online at Publicinput.com/nctcogJan25. Viewers are also encouraged to call 855-925-2801 and enter code 7533 to join the conversation. Public comments will be accepted until Feb.11.

The first presentation will focus on the Work Zone Data Exchange Call for Projects. This initiative aims to improve how work zone data is shared in real time across the region. In 2022, NCTCOG selected five vendors to help convert work zone data into a standardized format and create a system for reporting this data.

In June 2023, the Regional Transportation Council (RTC) provided funding to move the project forward. Local agencies submitted their project proposals for funding in November 2024, and NCTCOG will present a summary of the projects being recommended for implementation.

Staff will also discuss multiple electric vehicle (EV) charging station deployment projects that are bringing nearly $90 million to the region. NCTCOG is asking for feedback on the best way to use this funding, and members of the public can share their thoughts at PublicInput.com/nctcogev-charging.

Additionally, NCTCOG works with regional partners to create strategies that improve air quality. Staff will highlight local projects that have received grants to reduce emissions in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and will share information about current funding opportunities for fleets looking to buy cleaner vehicles and equipment.

Administrative revisions to the Mobility 2045 – 2022 Update, air quality funding opportunities, information about the Try Parking It program and Access North Texas plan will also be posted online for review.

Residents planning to use transit to attend the meeting can take advantage of $6 round-trip rides from the CentrePort/DFW Airport Station to NCTCOG via the Arlington Transportation app. To download the app, visit ArlingtonTX.gov/ondemand.

For special accommodation related to disabilities or language interpretation, contact 817-573-1719 or email hwitcher@nctcog.org.

Candidate Guide & Requirements

The Texas Election Code designates the Secretary of State as the chief election officer of the State of Texas. In order to provide information on the electoral process to all Texans, his office has prepared this guide in the expectation that increased information will result in increased participation.

Candidates to the Board of Trustees must conform to the Texas Education Code. Eligibility/qualification requirements can be found in Policy BBA \(LEGAL\). You can find information on running for local office on the Texas Secretary of State website. Current state law requires a candidate for trustee of an independent school district to be a qualified voter by the time required by Election Code Section 141.001.

WSISD provides the Secretary of State candidate form (Application for Place on the General Election Ballot for City, Schools and Other Political Subdivisions) in candidate packets. An application for a place on the ballot must be in writing; signed, sworn to by the candidate before a person authorized to administer an oath, and dated; timely filed and contain specified information about the candidate:

- The candidate's name.
- The candidate's occupation.
- The office sought, including any place number.
- An indication of whether the office sought is to be filled for a full or unexpired term.
- A statement that the candidate is a United States citizen.
- A statement that the candidate has not been finally determined mentally incapacitated or partially mentally incapacitated without the right to vote by a court with probate jurisdiction.

- A statement that the candidate has not been finally convicted of a felony from which the candidate has not been pardoned or otherwise released from the resulting disabilities.

- The candidate's date of birth.

- The candidate's residence address, or if the residence has no address, the address at which the candidate receives mail and a concise description of the location of the candidate's residence.

- The candidate's length of continuous residence in the state and in the territory from which the office sought is elected as of the date that the candidate swears to the application.

- A statement swearing to defend the Constitution and laws of the United States and Texas.

- A statement that the candidate is aware of the nepotism law.

- A public mailing address for campaign correspondence, if available, and any available electronic mail address at which the candidate receives correspondence relating to the candidate's campaign.

American Theoretical Physicist - John Archibald Wheeler

The twentieth century saw the shrouds surrounding the mysteries of science and creation being pulled back to reveal a universe of incredible, awe-inspiring wonder. From large galaxies millions of light years away to the smallest subatomic particles, science has advanced humanity's understanding of physical laws. Physicist John Wheeler was part of much of this Earth-shattering work, such as understanding the structure of the atom, working on the atomic bomb, and researching the nature of some of the largest objects in the universe. Wheeler not only advanced our understanding of the universe, he helped the general public understand it as well, popularizing many scientific phrases used today.

John Archibald Wheeler was born in Jacksonville, Florida, in 1911 to a husband-wife team of librarians. He inherited their love of the written word and was captivated by math and technology. The family moved several times, but he ultimately graduated from high school in Baltimore at the age of 15. He enrolled at Johns Hopkins University on a scholarship and earned a doctorate in 1933, concentrating his studies on the nature of the atom.

In 1934, he spent a year working with Danish physicist Neils Bohr, the pioneer who uncovered the modern structure of the atom. In 1935, Wheeler took a teaching position at the University of North Carolina. Three years later, he switched to Princeton University, attracted by its growing reputation in scientific research. While at Princeton, he worked with such brilliant minds as Albert Einstein and trained such groundbreaking physicists as Richard Feynman and Kip Thorne.

Wheeler worked again with Bohr when he visited Princeton in 1939. Together, the two wrote an article describing what they termed "the liquid-drop model" of the atomic nucleus to describe how nuclear fission could take place. Wheeler, as a result, became one of thousands of scientists working on the Manhattan Project during World War II, America's attempt to build an atomic bomb. Wheeler helped design nuclear reactors to produce plutonium, the key element that allows the bomb to work.

He continued to consult the federal government on a number of issues involving defense and space exploration. By the early 1950s, he turned his attention from nuclear physics to general relativity. But from the 1940s onward, he worked with other scientists and brought ideas that once seemed on the outer edge of science fiction into the mainstream of scientific fact.

As early as the 1940s, Wheeler had been researching antimatter. Through his studies and examination of the mathematics surrounding such known antimatter particles as the positron, he postulated that positrons could simply be regular electrons traveling backward in time. The conclusion was stunning, but he developed the "one-electron universe" postulate in 1940 to describe one electron bouncing forward and backward in time, changing directions. This has since become an inseparable part of research into these particles and the most advanced levels of subatomic research.

In 1957, his research into relativity, Einstein's idea that the fabric of space is curved by gravitation, revealed a fascinating byproduct. Working with Charles Misner, Wheeler coined the term "wormhole" to describe tunnels in space and time created by intense gravitation and bizarre subatomic reactions. Though not yet observed, the math behind the wormhole theory was impeccable.

Wheeler's research also bolstered Einstein's idea of the gravity wave, another idea developing from relativity. Astronomers in just the past couple of years have confirmed the existence of gravity waves. His work also led him to study the collapse of stars due to their own extreme gravity. He popularized the term "black hole" to describe these collapsed stars where not even light can escape their pull. Evidence of the existence of black holes began appearing in the 1960s.

He retired from Princeton in 1976. Though he was technically at retirement age at 65, he was far from ready to stop working. The questions that science was researching were too tempting for him to stay away from teaching. The University of Texas quickly appointed him as director of the Center for Theoretical Physics, and he quickly moved to Austin.

The university already had an impressive team of physicists and astronomers, and the addition of Wheeler increased that prestige. Wheeler was a popular professor at the university and made teaching a priority as he had throughout his entire career as he believed that helping young minds understand science was as critical as the research he had performed. He had a tremendous impact on a generation of Texas scientists who went through the university.

In 1986, he retired from UT. After his retirement, the Wheeler Lecture Hall in the university's astronomy and physics building was renamed in his honor.

He wrote nine books in his career, including "At Home in the Universe" (1994) and "Exploring Black Holes" (2000).

Wheeler died in New Jersey in 2008 at the age of 96.

Easy Renter-Friendly Tips to Weatherize Your Home

Taking the proper steps to weatherproof your rental is a simple way to stay snug this cold-weather season – while also resulting in notable savings on heating and energy bills.

In fact, a Duck brand survey found that 80% of people noticed a decrease in their heating bill after using affordable weatherization products, such as window insulation kits, weatherstrip seals and door draft seals. With this in mind, here are temporary ways to prep your rental for the winter without causing any damage.

Install draft seals. Doors and windows are notorious for letting in cold air, which can drastically affect your home's temperature. Fortunately for renters, the Duck Brand Double Draft Seal is a removable solution designed to insulate your door from both sides. This practical tool blocks drafts while maintaining the room's temperature, ensuring both comfort and energy efficiency. Simply slide the seal under interior or exterior doors and window frames to keep cold air from coming in. Even better, the seals can be reused in future residences, making them a smart choice for keeping your comfort intact wherever you choose to live next.

Hang thermal curtains. Thermal curtains are an excellent option if you're looking for DIY ways to increase your space's energy efficiency. By hanging these insulated drapes, the cold air between the window and fabric remains trapped, helping to maintain a comfortable temperature without the need to turn up the heat. If your lease doesn't give permission to drill into the wall, use a tension rod to install them.

Embrace window kits. If thermal curtains aren't your style, installing a removable window kit is just as easy. The Duck Max Strength Rolled Shrink Film Window Insulation Kit creates an added barrier between the outdoor air and your home's inside. Plus, unlike thermal curtains, the film is crystal clear and allows natural light to peer through windows.

Dress your floors. Who said weatherization can't be stylish? By placing decorative, cozy rugs on hardwood floors and tiles, you can further insulate your rental. While these items won't fully prevent heat loss, they do offer an extra layer of warmth and can help reduce drafts from cold floors, making them an obvious choice if you're a renter looking to stay warm without making permanent changes.

For more weatherization how-to's, head to www.duckbrand.com/weatherize.

By taking these steps, renters can remain draft-free and damage-free, staying warm while lowering costly electric bills.
