The Brewer Bear baseball team had a solid showing at the Eagle Mountain-Saginaw tournament this past weekend, and coach Gilbert Ramirez said he was impressed with what he saw from his team.

The Bears are getting contributions from a number of players early on, and Ramirez said he is feeling pretty good about the way things are shaping up.

"We went 2-2-1 at the EMS Tournament this weekend with two, 1-run losses," Ramirez said. "We pitched well and played great defense, all weekend, and started to get the timely hits on Saturday."

On the mound, Ramirez said he had a number of standout performances including Trey Ramirez (7IP, 4H, 0R, 3Ks), Jayden Ayala-Hinojosa (6IP, 5H, 2R, 7Ks), Andrew Moralez (6IP, 6H, 1ER, 8Ks), Roman Storm (6IP, 1 H, 0R, 2Ks) and Nick Johnson (2IP, 0H, 0R, 2 saves).

At the plate, Brayden Squires went 6-14, with a .429 batting average, while Trey Ramirez was 5-16, with a .313 batting average and Jake Ramirez went 5-17, hitting .294 for the tournament.

Ramirez said he is optimistic about what he has seen from his team during the non-district schedule so far.

"Our guys have been playing great defense and pitching really well so far this year, and I love the fight that our team has," Ramirez said. "They are giving it their all, playing hard and playing for each other."

In softball, the Lady Bears competed in the Turf Wars Tournament this past weekend, where they went 3-3 overall and gained some valuable experience.

Coach Amye Guin said that she feels her team is competing well as district competition approached.

"I think that this weekend showed the girls what they are capable of when they compete as a team. I am very happy with the level in which they are competing and challenging their opponents going into the rest of district. They have battled through numerous team injuries and obstacles leading up to this point and we are excited to see what the rest of this season holds. Again, this weekend was great for the girls to see what happens when they work towards a common goal and attack every inning together. We always talk about playoffs never being promised so we are taking it game by game."

Brewer opened up district competition with Wichita Falls Rider on Tuesday night and will take on Northwest at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Justin.

On the pitch, the Brewer boy's soccer team improved to 8-1-2 in district competition with a 4-1 victory over Aledo on Friday to remain in first place in the district 5-5A standings.

White Settlement Police Department Hires Officer Haley Buck

Meet Officer Haley Buck.

“I grew up in the DFW area. I was previously a flight attendant for Spirit Airlines but have always wanted to be a police officer. I will be the first female police officer in my family. In my free time, I enjoy trying new things, cooking, and spending time with the people I love. Above all else, I show up everyday dedicated to setting a good example for my daughter, so she knows anything is possible with hard work. I’m passionate about serving and protecting others with integrity. I look forward to establishing a relationship with the community of White Settlement, and I hope to be a role model to all the children and young adults that I have the privilege to serve.”

We are excited to welcome Officer Buck to our department and community. She was one of three recent graduates of the police academy.

19th-Century American Lawyer and Soldier - William Barret Travis by Dr. Ken Bridges

William Barret Travis is perhaps one of the most memorable figures from the Texas Revolution and the siege of the Alamo. His name has since been honored with the naming of Travis County, a park in San Antonio, and numerous schools across the state. Like many heroic figures, his life was one fraught with difficulty.

Travis was born in Saluda County, South Carolina, on Aug. 1, 1809. He was the first of 11 children born to farmer Mark and Jemima Travis. He came from a family of pioneers who had settled in Virginia as early as 1627. Eager for new opportunities, the family headed westward and settled in southern Alabama in 1817. He briefly became a school teacher before gaining his law license through an apprenticeship in 1828.

Everything in his life seemed to be going in his direction at this point. He was ambitious, becoming steadily more successful, and making himself an important part of the community. In 1829, his new wife gave birth to their first child. In addition to his law practice, he started a newspaper, the Claiborne Herald. He joined the local Masonic lodge and also joined the Alabama Militia. But in less than two years, he lost it all.

His weekly newspaper turned into a disaster as his continual typesetting mistakes, missed deadlines, and poor decisions pushed the once-promising publication into insolvency. He found himself unable to attract any significant clients to his law firm. Of the few clients he had, he was unable to collect any legal fees or awards. The bills piled up, no money was coming in, and he now faced the suspected infidelity of his wife.

By early 1831, he owed $834 to various creditors, an immense sum at the time. Unable to pay, he was taken to court and found liable. By March, an order for his arrest was made for the unpaid debts. Buried in debt and on the run from the law, Travis left Alabama in disgrace.

He went to Texas to recover his fortunes. He started a modest law firm at Anahuac, near modern-day Houston. In 1832, he was arrested following a legal dispute over three slaves who had escaped from Louisiana. The incident touched off a violent encounter with the Mexican Army that left six dead.

In 1834, Travis moved his law practice to San Felipe as relations between Mexico and Texas settlers deteriorated. By 1835, he was made a lieutenant colonel in San Antonio and ordered to recruit volunteers for the defense of the city, but he found few people willing to join him. In early 1836, troops began reinforcing the old mission at the Alamo, which at that time was just outside San Antonio. By mid-February, Col. James Neill took a leave of absence to attend to his family, leaving Travis in command of about 50 men. One hundred more soon joined, under the command of Jim Bowie.

In spite of Gen. Sam Houston's orders that the mission be abandoned, Travis and the other men decided to make their stand. He sent urgent appeals for reinforcements. On Feb. 24, he sent an open letter addressed "To the People of Texas and All the Americans in the World," asking for troops "in the name of liberty, of patriotism, and everything dear to the American character." He proclaimed, "I shall never surrender or retreat."

By the time the final siege started, there were only 188 defenders at the Alamo, compared to the thousands of soldiers attacking the mission.

On March 6, the final attack started, and the men of the Alamo faced their destiny. Travis died at the Alamo on that fateful day. He lived a short 26 years, but in one fateful moment in history, he became a legend.
