Brewer Football and Volleyball Teams to Open District Play Against Aledo

The Brewer football boys came up a little short against Lake Dallas on Friday night and has another tall task ahead of them when they open district with Aledo this week.

Brewer lost to Lake Dallas by a score of 27-14, and coach Jason Wheeler he knew the game against the Falcons would be a tough one.

“Lake Dallas has a good football program,” Wheeler said. “They are usually in the playoffs and go pretty deep. That has no bearing on how we performed, and I thought we did well in a lot of areas. We ran the ball for over 200 yards. Kameron Coleman really toted the rock well. We did turn the ball over twice in the first half and had some untimely penalties. We would drive, drive, drive and get into scoring position and then have a penalty that set us back and stall the drive. I do feel like we grew as a football team. We started six or seven sophomores in the game, and they are getting better every (continued on page 5)

NCT9-1-1 Educates About
 Accidentally Dialing 9-1-1

Accidental 9-1-1 calls happen more often than you might think. Whether it's a toddler playing with your phone, an unintended pocket dial, or a technical glitch, these calls can easily occur.

While it's understandable to feel embarrassed or worried, the best thing you can do is not hang up. Staying on the line and explaining the situation is crucial for ensuring that emergency services can focus on real emergencies.

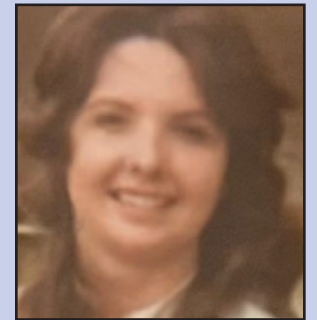

When you hang up after an accidental call, the 9-1-1 call taker is obligated to call you back to ensure there isn't an emergency.

If they can't reach you, they might dispatch emergency services to your location to make sure everything is okay, which can divert valuable resources from real emergencies and cause unnecessary stress for everyone involved. Staying on the line allows the 9-1-1 call taker to quickly ascertain that there is no emergency and ensures the efficiency of the system.

Obituary

Marietta F. Winfrey

Marietta F. Winfrey passed away on Aug. 28, 2024, in Lawrence, Kansas.

Memorial services for Marietta will be held at the Lawrence First Church of the Nazarene (1470 N 1000 Road) on Friday, Oct. 4, 2024, at 2 p.m.

Marietta was born to Louis and Phyllis Ferguson in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, on Dec. 11, 1948. Marietta married John Winfrey in Fort Worth, Texas, on July 19, 1969. Marietta and John had known each other all their lives, having attended kindergarten together in Texas. Marietta was a loving and good wife and mother who supported John in his teaching and many careers, beginning in Kitzingen, Germany, where John served in the U.S. Army as a young officer. It was there Marietta gave birth to her first two children. After Germany, John became a public School teacher in Texas for 8 years. From there, they moved to Ada, Oklahoma, where John worked for Army ROTC at East Central Oklahoma State University. The next move took them to St. Louis, Missouri, where John worked in the U.S. Army Records Center. Then, finally, in the summer of 1987, the family moved to Lawrence, Kansas, where John worked in Army ROTC at the University of Kansas before they put down root for good.

In 1989, Marietta and her good friend Deb Danielson established the Little Lambs Daycare in the Indian Hills Neighborhood of Lawrence. For 18 years Little Lambs provided quality and professional home day care for many Lawrence children. In 2006, Marietta closed her business before spending the next 5 years working for Childcare Aware, a non-profit organization dedicated to helping Kansas families find solutions for their childcare needs, connecting families and expecting mothers with helpful information and community resources, and assisting early learning programs.

Marietta, a woman of deep faith, was a member of Cornerstone Baptist Church for over 20 years and, in 2011, became a member of First Church of the Nazarene (both of Lawrence, KS). Through emotional and spiritual coaching over the years, Marietta has influenced and impacted many people, especially young people. Though shy as a young woman, Marietta became quite vocal about social and personal freedoms, individual rights, and equality, and she was unafraid to speak up about what she believed in when she thought it was right.

Upon her retirement in 2010, Marietta and John hit the road crisscrossing the United States in their RV. Marietta loved the ocean and the Rocky Mountains. She and John stayed frequently at Jamaica Beach and Port Aransas, Texas, and Golden Gate Canyon State Park in Colorado, where she and John stayed 29 different times between 1978 and 2018.

Sadly, over the last few years, Marietta dealt with various illnesses but showed courage and bravery throughout. Above all else, Marietta was deeply devoted to her family. She passed peacefully in her home with her loving husband and children at her side. Just as she wanted. She was a wonderful wife, mother, friend, mentor, and caregiver to so many. She will not be forgotten.

Marietta is survived by her husband of 56 years, John; five children, Jennifer (Carlo Washington) Younger, Bryan (Lori) Winfrey, Shannon (Freddie) Hammonds, Kristen (Drew) Woods, and Jeremy Winfrey; ten grandchildren, Shelby Winfrey, Jaiden Younger, Breckin Younger, Saylor Winfrey, Kalli Winfrey, Bailey Hammonds, Shayne Hammonds, Elijah Chaffin, Rose Naramore-Winfrey, and Sophia Naramore-Winfrey; and her brother, Stephen (Marianela) Furgerson.

Memorial contributions may be made in Marietta's name to Childcare Aware of Eastern Kansas and may be sent in care of Warren-McElwain Mortuary, 120 W. 13th Street, Lawrence, KS 66044. For more information or to post a condolence, go to warrenmcelwain.com.

time we step out on the field.”

The loss to Lake Dallas marked the end of the non-district schedule, and Wheeler said he feels it did do a good job of preparing his team for district competition.

“Playing Lake Dallas was a game that I felt was definitely going to challenge us going into district,” Wheeler said. “You look at Saginaw, and generally they are not a very tough football team. I was disappointed with the loss to them last week, but you look up and they beat Boswell last night, so they've definitely improved as a football team. So the pre-district schedule has done it's job, Now we get to go and play Aledo.”

The Aledo game will be Brewer's district opener, and their Bears will have their hands full.

“We just have to go out there and line up and minimize the mistakes,” Wheeler said. “That's one thing that I talked to the kids about is we have to continue to grow and win five of the next eight to make it in. That's a very doable task. We just have to line up each week, understand that it's about growth and continue to have the confidence in what our abilities are and what we can accomplish.”

Brewer will host Aledo at 7 p.m. on Sept. 13.

On the court, the Brewer volleyball team will open up district this coming Friday with Aledo, and coach Jill Barkey said the non-district schedule did produce a set back.

“We've had a tougher pre-season than expected as we lost a key player to injury a couple weeks ago,” Barkey said. “But we continue to fight and get better daily.”

Barkey said she does believe the non-district schedule did prepare her team for what lies ahead.

“I think once everyone is back and we're at full capacity we'll be very competitive,” Barkey said. “Our last three games leading into district were meant to prepare us for what we know to be a very competitive district.”

On the trails, the Brewer girls cross country team finished fifth at the Metroplex Invitational this past weekend.

Madison Carroll was the top runner on the girl's side with a time of 21:21.41 in the 5K event.

Olivia Farris was next with a time of 22:08.03 and Claire Simons finished with a time of 23:19.59.

The One and Only, Gene Autry

He was called “America’s Favorite Cowboy” and the “Singing Cowboy.” Though he was not the first western star of either movies or music, Texas native Gene Autry became a favorite across the nation from the 1930s through the 1950s. He became so popular that a host of communities across North Texas and southern Oklahoma scrambled to proclaim themselves his hometown. Autry’s heartwarming songs and movies became a staple for generations of Americans and helped craft the image of how Americans see the Old West.

Orvon Grover Autry was born outside Tioga in Grayson County in 1907. His grandfather was a Methodist preacher, and his parents were ranchers. They would all have a profound impact on his outlook on life. The family moved several times, eventually ending up owning a ranch in southern Oklahoma.

He graduated high school in 1925 and took a job as a telegraph operator. He had an opportunity to play minor league baseball, but he declined and took up music instead. He often practiced guitar and singing while manning his telegraph station late at night, a move that eventually cost him his job. In 1928, he traveled to New York to audition for a record label. He failed. He returned to Oklahoma and picked up a job singing on a Tulsa radio station. By the next year, Columbia Records signed him to a contract.

Autry recorded 640 songs and wrote more than 300. Ultimately, more than 100 million copies of his albums were sold. He appeared in his first movie, “In Old Santa Fe,” in 1934. He would appear in more than ninety films, usually portraying a light-hearted singing cowboy.

From 1936 to 1942, he was the top western actor in the country. Autry co-wrote “Back in the Saddle Again” with Ray Whitley in 1939. It immediately became a hit, and Autry performed it for the rest of his career. This followed with a popular radio program, Gene Autry’s Melody Ranch, which ran from 1940 to 1943 and from 1945 to 1956.

He was nominated for an Academy Award in 1942 for Best Original Song for the 1941 melody “Ridin’ on a Rainbow” from the film of the same name.

In 1941, the small community of Berwyn, Oklahoma, renamed itself Gene Autry in honor of the star who had spent some of his formative years in nearby communities. Autry performed his radio show for the community at the dedication in appreciation for the honor.

Autry prided himself on his patriotism. In 1942, during World War II, and at the height of his fame, Autry decided he needed to do his part for his country at war. He enlisted in the U.S. Army Air Force, eventually becoming a C-109 transport pilot. He rose to the rank of tech sergeant and flew many difficult missions through the Himalayas to deliver supplies to allied Chinese troops fighting Japan.

As World War II came to a close, he began recording a string of his most iconic songs, popular decades later. In 1945, he released “Don’t Fence Me In” and released “Here Comes Santa Claus” in 1948. One of his most popular songs was his rendition of “Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer.” Autry initially declined to record it, but his wife convinced him otherwise, believing that children would enjoy it. The song shot up to the top position on the charts for the 1949 Christmas season. His Christmas songs were so popular that they are inescapable part of the season even decades later.

In 1950, his radio show was adapted to TV as The Gene Autry Show, which ran until 1956 on CBS. After the early 1960s, he largely retired from performing to concentrate on his business interests. He owned several radio stations and bred horses for rodeos. In 1963, he bought Los Angeles television station KTLA for $12 million. He sold it for $245 million in 1982.

In 1961, he became owner of the Los Angeles Angels as Major League Baseball expanded to the West Coast. The team won the division three times but never won the World Series while Autry owned the team. “Win one for the cowboy!” became a popular rallying cry for Angels fans for years.

He released his autobiography, “Back in the Saddle Again,” in 1976. In honor of his stewardship of the Angels, Autry became vice-president of the American League starting in 1983. He founded the Gene Autry Western Heritage Museum in Los Angeles in 1988.

He died at his home in California in 1998 at age 91. His songs have been featured in nearly 200 movies and television shows, leaving a long legacy of music for fans around the world.
