a proposal to approve an Economic Development Performance Agreement between the Benbrook Economic Development Corporation (BEDC) and JVEP Commerce Centre, LLC.

The proposed Commerce Centre project would include façade enhancements, replacing and repairing stucco and flashing on buildings where needed, sealing and painting the exterior of all seven buildings, replacing gutters throughout the property as needed, replacing exterior lights throughout the property as needed, restriping the existing parking lot, updating landscaping throughout the property, replacing irrigation as needed, replacing two fences, adding new garage doors for the eleven warehouse suites, and updating the existing signage. The estimated project cost for the work is $455,887.

The agreement was approved unanimously.

Next up was a motion to adopt an ordinance amending Title 15-Buildings and Construction of the Benbrook Municipal Code (1985), as amended, by amending various sections of Chapter 15.40 – the Flood Hazard Protection, relating to the repair and improvement of structures located within the area of special flood hazard.

Staff recommended adoption of the attached Ordinance amending Chapter 15-40 of the Flood Hazard

Protection of the Benbrook Municipal Code to reduce immaterial restrictions and provide additional improvement options for properties situated in the floodplain according to the agenda.

This would update and add terms in the Definition section, add a non-conforming section for uses and structures, eliminate the requirement for a city issued floodplain permit for “general maintenance”, which includes all repair work and other improvements to properties that otherwise do not require a permit from the city, exempt property owners from having to obtain a permit to perform routine grounds maintenance, landscaping, and home gardening, clarify the provisions for flood hazard reduction for new construction and substantial improvements and allow structures located in the floodway to be repaired or improved provided the total cost is less than 50 percent of the value of the structure (costs over 50% of value are considered subs.

Time was then allowed for informal citizen comments, but there were none.

Time was then allowed for council member and staff comments, and Renee Franklin reminded residents of a couple of events that already passed by the time of publication.

Ward then thanked the Economic Development Corporation for continuing to bring well thought-out plans to the city council that “represent what the comprehensive plan says we are here to do.”

The meeting was then adjourned.

Lady Bobcats Basketball Team to Face Alvarado in Bi-District Round; Cougars Defeat Bobcats in Soccer Shoot Out

The Lady Bobcats basketball team clinched the third playoff seed in district 9-4A last week with a 47-43 victory over the Young Women's Leadership Academy.

Coach Leta Lofton said it took her team a while to find its rhythm in the game, but, "It was a slow start for us, allowing YWLA to run off a 15-point lead," Lofton said. "After halftime, we were able to make a few adjustments and gain the lead in the fourth quarter behind the hot 3-point shooting from freshmen Grace Klaerner and Sam Lindsey, and also the aggressive attack to the bucket by senior forward Sharon Mpinda."

Benbrook will square off with Alvarado in the bi-district round, and Lofton said she is pleased with how her team is competing heading into the playoffs.

"We have learned to come together as a team and learn to also fight at critical parts of the game," Lofton said. "We are young, but we have matured and gained knowledge and experience along the way."

Hopefully what we have learned will pay off for us in the playoffs."

Over at Western Hills, the Lady Cougars lost to Dunbar last Tuesday by a score of 66-20.

On the boy's side, Benbrook defeated YMLA 43-31 last week, and coach Blake Mendez said it was a good defensive effort from his team.

"YMLA is a scrappy bunch, and coach Lee had a great game plan," Mendez said. "They made it tough for us to score, but our defense showed up. Anytime you can hold your opponent in the 30's, you give yourself a chance to win and that's exactly what we were able to do."

Mendez said "Jaelyn Robinson was big for us off the bench. His rebounding secured possession's for us and he hit a big 3 in the fourth quarter when YMLA was trying to go on a run," Mendez said.

With the playoffs right around the corner, Mendez said his team is starting to gel.

"We've had some bad luck lately with injuries and sickness, and we're finally getting past all of that," Mendez said. "We're getting healthy at the right time and we're ready to compete."

Over at Western Hills, the Cougars lost to Eastern Hills on Friday, and coach Blake Dunson said he was proud of the way his team competed.

"We were a little short-handed against Eastern Hills, but we competed well," Dunson said. "Obviously being number one in the state, we knew it was going to be a challenge. I expect us to be ready to play against Diamond Hill on Friday as we honor our seniors and can clinch a playoff berth with a win."

The Cougars will host Diamond Hill-Jarvis at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, and Dunson said this week is critical.

"We're looking forward to hopefully clinching on Friday night and preparing to play our best basketball in our final game versus YMLA leading into the post season," Dunson said.

On the pitch, the Western Hills boys played Benbrook to a 1-1 draw on Friday that the Cougars eventually won in a 4-2 shoot out.

Coach Matt Collins said it was about what he expected from a Western Hills/Benbrook match.

"The Benbrook game is always fun," Collins said. "Both teams are up for it. Our teams have many common bonds. Going out on their field and getting a win felt great for our boys."

Collins said he had a couple of especially strong performances in the game.

"Anthony Juanes scored a wonderful goal," Collins said. "Landon Whittaker was great as a goalkeeper. Alberto Delgadillo was strong all game long."

Western Hills plays Dunbar tomorrow night, and Collins said he expects a good game.

"Dunbar is always a problem for us," Collins said. "They play hard and are led by a great coach. We will need to be sharp to keep winning."

On the girl's side, Benbrook defeated Western Hills on Friday, and coach Luz Castillo said her team was firing on all cylinders.

"The team played great with many goals and assists by various players," Castillo said. "Western Hills came out and fought hard, but the game ended up in a shutout with the final score of 10-0."

Sydney Chavez finished the game with three goals and two assists, and Lily Chavez and Campbell Cox finished with two goals each.

Benbrook plays Diamond Hill-Jarvis tomorrow, and Castillo said she expects a challenge.

"DHJ always fights hard and is one of the most challenging teams in our district," Castillo said. "They are off to a winning streak, but as long as we continue playing like we have and keep up our team dynamic, we hope to bring home another win."

Spice Up Superbowl Sunday with Mouthwatering Recipes

It's Superbowl time and there's only one thing to make game day a bigger win: delicious game day food!

Looking to add some kick to kick-off? Whether you're tailgating or hosting from home, Frank's RedHot Original Cayenne Pepper Hot Sauce, made with a premium blend of aged cayenne peppers, is a must-have ingredient.

Classic Buffalo Chicken Wings

If you're someone who agrees that no tailgate or watch party is complete without wings, you're in good company. According to Chef Jordan Carfagno of Frank's RedHot, chicken wings are the brand's most searched recipe during football season. Anyone looking to kick their wings up a notch can try this mouthwatering recipe for a classic take on wings, and it can be made in the oven at home, or in an air fryer if you're tailgating.

Ingredients:

- 1/3 cup butter, melted
- 1/2 cup Frank's RedHot Original Cayenne Pepper Hot Sauce
- 2 and 1/2 pounds chicken wing pieces

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 450 degrees F. Mix butter and RedHot Sauce in medium bowl; set aside.
2. Arrange wings on large foil-lined pan. Bake on lowest oven rack for 30 minutes or until crispy, turning once.
3. Toss wings in sauce mixture until well coated. Serve with blue cheese and celery, if desired.

Buffalo Chicken Dip

Chef Carfagno says dip recipes are gaining popularity this year, and this spicy creamy Buffalo chicken dip is the MVP of them all. Make it in the oven at home or plug in an instant pot or slow cooker for on-the-go prep.

Ingredients:

- 2 cups shredded cooked chicken
- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 cups Frank's RedHot Original Cayenne Pepper Hot Sauce
- 1/2 cup ranch dressing
- 1/2 cup blue cheese crumbles

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Mix all ingredients in a large bowl. Spoon into a shallow 1-quart baking dish.
2. Bake 20 minutes or until mixture is heated through; stir. Sprinkle with green onions, if desired, and serve with chips, crackers and cut up veggies.

Medal of Honor Recipient, Staff Sergeant Macario García

A young man escaping the poverty of a foreign land, dreaming of a better life, and becoming a hero for his adopted nation may seem too fantastic for a jaded age, but it is the true story of Medal of Honor recipient Macario Garcia, an immigrant and World War II veteran. Like many of his generation, he fought with courage on the battlefield and at home to defend the United States and its ideals to build a better nation.

He was born Jan. 2, 1920, in Villa de Castano, a tiny village in Mexico. Garcia was one of 10 children born to destitute farm workers. In 1923, to improve their fortunes, they came to the United States, like so many other immigrants from so many other lands. They settled in the Sugarland area, just outside Houston. As soon as he was old enough, Garcia joined his parents working in the fields. Like many other farm workers, he worked hard, but his education was sporadic.

In 1942, Garcia enlisted in the army. America had become his home, and his home had been attacked. He was determined to serve in its defense. An infantryman, he was wounded at the Allied invasion of Normandy on D-Day in 1944. Awarded the Purple Heart, he soon returned to duty. He later earned the Bronze Star as well.

In November 1944, as American troops were beginning to push into Nazi Germany, Garcia and his men found themselves in a desperate battle. They were pinned down by machine gun fire, and Garcia was wounded. He carefully crawled to a position near the machine gun nest, hurled a grenade, and shot three enemy troops to take out the gun. A second machine gun opened fire, and Garcia again crawled over to also take it out single-handedly. The men were saved, and the army's position was secured. For his actions, he was given the Medal of Honor.

President Harry S. Truman presented him with the medal in a White House ceremony on Aug. 23, 1945. Shortly afterward, his native land of Mexico awarded him the Merito Militar, one of the highest awards in the Mexican Army, for his valor. Garcia was honorably discharged in 1946, leaving with the rank of staff sergeant.

For many veterans returning home, it is often difficult to fathom how much they have changed because of their experiences while so little has changed for those they left behind. Such was often the case for World War II veterans. Garcia himself would discover this much to the horrors of himself and the nation when he stepped into a restaurant in Richmond, just outside Houston, in September 1945 – not even one month after the war ended and his White House appearance.

Garcia's face had been in newspapers all over the Houston area. His story was well-known by this point. In spite of his service, in spite of his heroism, in spite of saving the lives of his fellow soldiers on multiple occasions – putting his own life at risk to save others -- the restaurant owners refused to serve him because his skin was not the right color. Insulted, Garcia began arguing with the owner. The owner then beat him with a baseball bat. To make matters worse, police arrested Garcia and charged him in the incident.

Garcia had shed blood defending his adopted country and the freedoms for which it stood. Now his blood was shed because of bigotry. Journalists across the nation condemned the treatment of the Medal of Honor recipient. Former Gov. James Allred stepped up and served as his attorney. Through his powerful defenders, Garcia was able to win delays for a trial. In 1947, prosecutors quietly dismissed the case.

Afterward, he was able to get his American citizenship in 1947 and worked with civil rights groups to fight segregation and other unjust laws. He returned to school and earned his high school diploma in 1951.

He eventually landed a job as a counselor with the Veterans Administration. Here, he spent the rest of his career helping his fellow veterans. He remained active in his support of civil rights. He spoke to various veterans groups, schools, and civil rights groups as the years passed. On Nov. 21, 1963, he met President John F. Kennedy at a reception in Houston the day before his tragic death in Dallas.

In December 1972, Garcia was critically injured in a car wreck. He died on Christmas Eve at the age of 52.

In the years after his passing, the Medal of Honor recipient was further honored.

In 1983, Houston's new army reserve center was named in his honor.

In 1994, a middle school was named for him in Sugarland, and Houston later named an elementary school and renamed a street after him. Honor led to a life well-lived.
