Obituary

Edward Russell Corey

White Settlement - Edward Russell Corey, 69, passed away Saturday, Sept. 23, 2023.

Funeral services were held Monday, Oct. 2, 2023, in Greenwood Chapel. Interment: Greenwood Memorial Park. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made in his memory to the Alzheimer's Association.

Edward was born Nov. 9, 1953, in Canada, but raised in Oregon City, Ore. After high school, he attended a local community college before transferring to Oregon State University, where he played football.

An Academic All American, he graduated with a Bachelor's degree in entomology. He worked for Pacific Northwest Bell for many years before joining the Oregon State Department of Agriculture, working in the field to track invasive species.

From the age of 17, his main hobby was ham radio. He was a lifetime member of ARRL. As an active member of Hoodview Amateur Radio Club, he participated in their events, serving as vice president during his time there.

In 2010, he met his future wife, Dawne Kite. They moved to Texas in early 2015 and were married in September of that year. They spent their time exploring local areas of interest. He was active with a local radio club until his stroke in 2017.

Ed was preceded in death by his parents, Charles Byron Corey and Natalie Belozor Corey; and his brother, Larry Wayne Corey.

Survivors: Wife, Dawne Corey of Fort Worth; nieces, Karen Wagenman and husband, Todd of Oregon City, Cynthia Holloway and husband, Matt of Fort Worth; nephew, Kenneth Wayne Corey of Oregon City, Greg Gillespie of Mabank; and numerous great-nieces, great-nephews, cousins and friends.

Western Hills Falls to Dunbar; BMHS Girls Take 3-0 Win Over Carter-Riverside

The Western Hills football team struggled last Thursday night, losing to Dunbar to move to 1-1 in district competition.

Coach Blake Moilan said there were a few issues in the game for his team.

"We definitely did not play our best game," Moilan said. "We felt like the defense came out and played fairly well at times, but gave up some big plays with mistakes we made. On offense, we never really got anything going. We struggled to consistently move the ball and penalties hurt us."

The Cougars will play Eastern Hills at 7 p.m. tomorrow evening, and Moilan said his team will have it's work cut out for it.

"Eastern Hills will be very athletic and fast," Moilan said. "We will need to play better than last week to get a win. Offensively, we will look to change a few things up and on defense we are going to work on rallying to the ball and tackling."

Over at Benbrook, the Bobcats were in their bye this past week and will open up district competition at Hillsboro at 7 p.m. tomorrow night.

On the court, the Benbrook volleyball team wrapped up the first half of district competition with a 3-0 win over Carter-Riverside on Friday night.

Coach Frances Davies said the game went about as well as could be expected.

"I think our match tonight was a great way to end first round of district," Davies said on Friday. "The girls played big and excited and had fun with it. We had the ability to get everyone on the court and run some fun new things."

Davies said she had a couple of good performances in the game.

"Gentry Grunden and Breezy Butler would be my standouts," Davies said. "Gentry is new to our program this year. However, she quickly became a major piece of the puzzle. She has a power swing, aggressive serve, and strong defense. Breezy is one of my senior captains and has quickly become our lead server as well as a lead producer. She's got a great attitude and leads beautifully, and really keeps us positive."

Benbrook went undefeated in the first half of district play, and Davies said she is pleased with the progress she has seen from her team.

"I'm very happy with our performance in district so far," Davies said. "There's always things we can improve on, but we are night and day from when we started. If we keep progressing like we have been, that fourth title is ours."

On the trails, the Benbrook cross country team had a strong showing at the Race for the Loot meet this past weekend, and coach Syna Donart said she had top five finishes on both sides.

"Race for the Loot was a good meet for us," Donart said. "Our boys and girls teams competed well. The boys finished third and the girls finished fourth. Carley Couch finished first overall and Kourtney Brown finished 10th with a season best."

The district meet is coming up on Oct. 13, and Donart said, "We are feeling good going in and running well as we approach the district meet," Donart said. "We have ran against most of our district opponents and competed well against them. We're looking forward to seeing how we do as we try to qualify for the regional meet."

Fort Worth ISD Board Approves Resolution Calling for School Building Capacity Study

The Fort Worth Independent School District (FWISD) is reaffirming its commitment to equitable education for all students with a groundbreaking resolution approved at the Board's Regular Meeting on Sept. 26.

FWISD, home to nearly 71,000 students and a diverse community, is dedicated to preparing all students for success in college, career, and community leadership. Under the leadership of the Board and superintendent, the District is transforming its schools to better serve its students.

A key part of this effort is a comprehensive study of school building capacity. Despite a decline in enrollment, the District has not proportionally reduced the number of schools it operates. This has led to underutilized facilities and smaller student populations in some schools, resulting in higher operational costs and fewer academic offerings.

To address this issue, the Board has directed the Superintendent and District staff to conduct a study of excess capacity in school buildings. Hoar Program Management, LLC has been chosen to aid in the creation of FWISD's District-wide Facility Master Plan. This will include condition assessments, prioritization guidance, and formulating a master plan that will guide the renovation, repurposing, or construction of facilities.

The school building capacity study will also assess staffing, educational programming, building capacity, community use of facilities, and maintenance conditions in each school and provide recommendations to address resource inequities among schools.

The District is committed to involving the community, with preliminary findings shared at regional meetings for feedback. A final report, including rightsizing recommendations, will be presented to the Board after community input.

This resolution highlights FWISD's dedication to providing a supportive and well-resourced learning environment for every student and reinforces its commitment to educational equity.

Electronic Waste/Document Shredding Event Oct. 14

The City of Benbrook is hosting a free Electronic Waste/Document Shredding event at the Dutch Branch Park parking lot on Saturday, Oct. 14, from 8 a.m. to noon.

Innovative Electronics will be on-site to collect E-Waste. There will be attendants available to help unload items.

As a rule of thumb, if it can be plugged in, it can be recycled.

The following is a list of common items that citizens can bring for recycling:

- Televisions (any size)/Radios/Telephones (No CRT)
- Computers/monitors/printers (Innovative Electronics destroys the hard drive)
- Fax Machines/Copiers
- Microwave ovens/Dishwashers/Washers/Dryers/Refrigerators
- Gaming systems (Xbox, PlayStations, etc.)
- Vacuum Cleaners
- VCR's
- Smoke detectors

Document Shredding

Sierra Shred will provide a shredding truck and will shred documents on-site. Please limit documents to a reasonable household amount (no large quantities of business documents).

Please do not place plastic materials such as credit cards or compact discs with documents to be shredded.

For more information, call Jared DeVries at 817-249-6008.

Embark on a Cultural Journey at the Hispanic American Heritage Student Museum Project

Prepare to be inspired and amazed as we invite you to a captivating exploration of heritage, culture, and education at the grand opening of our Hispanic American Heritage Student Museum Project on Oct. 12 from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. at Dolores Huerta Elementary School, a time-honored tradition that has enlightened minds since its inception in 1990.

The Hispanic American Heritage Student Museum Project, initiated over three decades ago, is a testament to the FWISD's commitment to fostering curiosity, knowledge, and cultural appreciation.

This event traces its origins to a noble aspiration: the promotion of literacy, authentic student learning experiences, and the cultivation of inspiration among elementary-grade students and their dedicated teachers. It encourages them to plan, research, and curate educational classroom projects and exhibits that shine a spotlight on historical and contemporary individuals from diverse cultural backgrounds.

The magic of this project lies not only in its educational value but also in its ability to foster community involvement. Parents are warmly invited to take part in the creation of classroom projects and exhibits, transforming this into a beloved community-wide tradition.

The museum will feature Latino artists like Celia Cruz and Selena, a celebration of family traditions and cultural contributions like pinatas, pan dulce, Loteria, math and science projects on the Mayan Number System, and more!

We are thrilled to announce that the doors of our school museum are open to the public, welcoming visitors to explore, learn, and celebrate the richness of Hispanic American heritage.

Scheduled tours are available for the public during school hours through Oct. 20.

Five Weight Loss Tips For Busy Parents

For parents, juggling the demands of work and home life can no doubt take a toll on physical health. In fact, a Cornell University study of 50 working moms and dads found that more than half turned to unhealthy eating options – such as pizza and fast food, because they were too busy to start a new healthy eating plan.

Here are five tips to fall back into a healthier routine and conquer your weight loss goals:

Eat enough protein. Protein is the key to feeling full and satisfied, especially when you're trying to lose a few pounds.

Get moving with fun, 15-minute workouts. As a busy parent, finding time to exercise may not be top of mind. Committing to just 15 minutes daily will do wonders for your health and help you stay on track with your weight loss goals. Look for new and exciting workouts to try, such as Pilates, dance and boxing, so that you don't get tired of doing the same exercises.

You can also get the family involved. Go on an evening walk together or take all the boredom out of exercise and have a dance competition!

Stock your fridge with healthy, seasonal options. Fall is the perfect time to enjoy in-season fruits and vegetables. During the cooler months, you'll find mouth-watering produce like apples, squash, salad greens, broccoli and Brussels sprouts that will satisfy your tastebuds. If you like trying new things, consider beets. Low in calories and high in fiber, vitamin C and potassium, beets make a great vegetable to add to your grocery list.

Plan your menu for the week. You're busy, so opt for easy, convenient options. That's where planning your weekly menu using healthy and simple ingredients comes in. Make sure to include variety so you don't risk getting bored. If you find yourself saying, "I had this last week. I don't feel like having that again," you may find yourself ordering takeout.

Another option is to look for a service that will deliver nutritionally-balanced, portion-controlled meals to your door.

Prioritize yourself. Being a busy parent can be exciting, but it could also mean having difficulty prioritizing yourself. Write yourself encouraging daily reminders and hang them around your home and workplace. Set aside time to read a book before bed. Do yoga for 15 minutes in your living room to unwind. Finding something new you love – be it meditation, crafting or listening to a podcast – can motivate you to stay committed to yourself.

Utilizing these simple tips will help you balance your busy work and home life and guide you on your successful weight loss journey. If you slip up, don't harp on your mistake instead, forgive yourself and start again.

Democratic Congressman, Hatton W. Sumners by Dr. Ken Bridges

Texas has produced many powerful political figures in its long history. In the 1930s, Texas had one of the most influential congressional delegations in the nation, including Sen. Morris Sheppard, the Senate Minority Whip, House Speaker John Nance Garner, and other congressmen such as future House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Wright Patman.

Among those figures was Congressman Hatton Sumners of Dallas, a 34-year veteran of Congress and chairman of the House Judiciary Committee for 14 years, helping to shape the direction of the federal judiciary.

Hatton Sumners was born in 1875 on a farm in Lincoln County, Tennessee, on the border with Alabama. His father had been a Confederate officer during the Civil War, and his parents also operated a boarding school. When he was 19, the family moved to Texas, settling in Garland, then a tiny community of just over 500 residents a few miles from Dallas.

Sumners wanted to pursue higher education and was interested in a law career. However, money was tight; and there were few alternatives at the time. He went to the Dallas city attorney, Alfred Wozencraft, and explained his plight.

Impressed by Sumners, Wozencraft hired him to work at his law firm, allowing him to study the law at night and even sleep in the offices. By 1897, Sumners passed the bar exam and began his work as an attorney.

In 1900, he decided to run for Dallas County Attorney. Though only having practiced for three years, Sumners won easily and became county attorney at the age of 25.

He made shutting down gambling in the county a priority, a crusade that he claimed led to his defeat in the 1902 primary. He was re-elected in 1904 and convinced the state legislature to push through a bill making running a gambling establishment a felony. He declined to run for a third term in 1906 and was named president of the state district attorney's association and spent the next few years running his own law firm.

In 1912, he was elected to Congress. He jumped into his work, quickly passing a bill to make Dallas a port of entry, easing the importation of products from abroad. Sumners was an enthusiastic supporter of the Federal Reserve Act to reform the nation's banking system. He was instrumental in bringing the regional Federal Reserve Bank to Dallas. The move solidified the position of Dallas as a major financial center in the state.

His congressional colleagues acknowledged his expertise on constitutional law and had him assigned to the House Judiciary Committee in 1919. He worked on a number of reforms to the federal judiciary, including changes to case loads and retirements. Though he supported a fair and transparent judiciary, he was often hostile to civil rights legislation, as were many southerners at the time.

Sumners became chairman of the House Judiciary Committee in 1932. As part of his committee work, he served as a House manager in the impeachment cases of three federal judges in their trials before the Senate. He also appeared as an attorney before the Supreme Court on several occasions to defend the interests of Congress in several cases. In 1934, as President Franklin D. Roosevelt prepared to grant independence to the Philippines, Sumners wrote a constitution for the islands.

In 1946, he announced his retirement after 17 terms in Congress. He enjoyed a quiet life upon his return to Dallas. He lived on the campus of Southern Methodist University for several years while working as the Director of Research in Law and Government for the Southwestern Legal Foundation.

In 1949, he established the Hatton Sumners Foundation to offer scholarships to aspiring students and grants for researchers.

He published a book outlining his ideas about government and the importance of the civic responsibilities of individuals in The Private Citizen and His Democracy in 1959.

He died quietly in 1962.
