From BHS to a Gold Medal: Sierra Kaspar's International Journey Inspires White Settlement

When Sierra Kaspar first laced up her cleats at age 4, she was just another kid who loved to play. She never imagined that years later, that same love for soccer would carry her across the world, or that her journey would include standing atop a medal stand in Japan with a gold medal around her neck.

Kaspar, an early 2026 graduate of Brewer High School, recently helped the U.S. Women's Deaf National Soccer Team win gold at the 2025 Deaflympics. A goalkeeper, she was one of just 23 players from across the country selected to represent the United States on one of the biggest stages in deaf sports.

Her accomplishment did not go unnoticed back home. Superintendent Frank Molinar and the White Settlement ISD Board of Trustees recognized Kaspar during the district's

City Council Opens the Podium to Students with “Presentation Partners” Program

On any given City Council night, residents can witness elected officials making decisions and staff keeping the wheels of city government turning. Soon, they may also see something new at the podium: local students taking their first steps into public service.

The city has launched a new program called Presentation Partners, an initiative developed through the City Secretary's Office with the support of Mayor Faron Young and the City Council. The goal is simple but powerful, give area students real-world opportunities to practice public speaking while getting a firsthand look at how their city works.

Through the program, students, especially those enrolled in public speaking, government, economics or

December board meeting, celebrating not only a championship, but a story of perseverance that has inspired her community.

Kaspar's path to international competition was shaped by a challenge she never asked for. She began experiencing hearing issues in fifth grade and was diagnosed with progressive hearing loss the following year. For the past five years, she has worn hearing aids, adjusting to changes that have continued to reshape her world.

In January 2025, she suspected she had lost more hearing and was reassessed. What had once been a 20- to 30-decibel loss eventually progressed to about about 70 decibels in the right ear and 65 in the left, placing her in the category of severely deaf in both ears.

"I never imagined my hearing loss would lead me to travel across the country doing what I love," Kaspar said.

That door opened thanks to a little push. She was encouraged to try out for the U.S. Women's Deaf National Soccer Team last May. Kaspar reached out to the team's head coach and was invited to a summer camp in New Mexico, then officially tried out in September.

A few months later, she was a Deaflympic gold medalist.

Kaspar played three years for the Brewer Lady Bears and currently guards the net for the Dallas Surf U19 GA club team. Known for her toughness and calm presence in goal, she has already received multiple college offers and plans to continue her soccer career at the next level this fall.

Until then, she's embracing the ride, learning sign language, adjusting to a new normal and, most of all, continuing to do what she has loved since she was just a little girl.

School Board Candidate Filing Deadline Feb. 13

White Settlement ISD voters will soon have a chance to help shape the future of the district.

Two seats on the White Settlement Independent School District Board of Trustees, Places 6 and 7, will be on the ballot when residents head to the polls Saturday, May 2.

Anyone interested in running for one of the positions must file for a place on the ballot by 5 p.m. Friday, Feb. 13, according to the district's official election notice posted on its website.

To take part in the election, residents must be registered to vote by Thursday, April 2.

Voters who want to cast their ballots early can do so from April 20 through April 28, giving the community more than a week of early voting ahead of Election Day.

Additional details about the election, including candidate filing requirements and voting information, are available on the White Settlement ISD website.

Bears Shine Across the Board: Girls' Basketball, Wrestling, and Boys' Soccer Make Their Mark

The Brewer boy's basketball team came up a little short against Azle last Tuesday, losing to the Hornets by a score of 52-42.

Coach Jason Porostovsky said it was a tough loss for the Bears, given that they led through much of the game.

"We controlled the game most of the night except for the final minute giving up the lead," Porostovsky said. "We allowed the game to stay close late. Braelon Orr did hit a game-tying three to send the game to overtime in which we eventually lost. Credit to Azle, they were the tougher team and caused us problems in the matchups."

Jayden Johnson led the Bears with 19 points and 17 rebounds.

On the girl's side, Brewer emerged victorious with a 33-30 victory over Azle last Tuesday, and coach Dena Atzenhoffer said it was a good effort all the way through.

"The game against Azle was a strong showing for us in terms of effort and energy," Atzenhoffer said. "Our kids played really tough from start to finish and brought a high level of intensity on both ends of the floor. We're seeing steady improvement every day, and this group is definitely on an upward trajectory as they continue to put things together."

Atzenhoffer said she had some nice individual performances as well.

"Clara Williams led us with 11 points and did a great job attacking offensively," Atzenhoffer said. "Analise Johnson and Amora Palmer each added eight points and provided solid contributions that helped keep us competitive throughout the game."

On the mat, Brewer competed in the Arlington Bowie Invite this past week and coach Sonny Feexico said his teams competed well, but still have room for improvement.

"This tournament wasn't as tough as the last two, but we still had a good showing," Feexico said. "We are still making costly mistakes in some of our matches and we have to get better at minimizing those mistakes. It's nothing that our opponents are doing. It's what we, as individuals, are doing that is costing a few matches. We will have to get things cleaned up and wrestle smarter as we approach District in a couple of weeks."

Seniors Jaleel Johnson and Jackson Hu-kill took home third and second in their weight divisions.

Junior Cameron Hoverman got fourth, and on the girls side, junior Daniela Estrada took home first and junior Kamarie Johnson took third.

"I really loved how we competed in the tournament," Feexico said. "The kids wrestled hard. Some of the kids are banged up a little bit but they wrestled with grit and fortitude to make it through the tournament. That just comes from their attitudes and willingness to compete."

"I am really proud of them for sticking it through and doing whatever it takes to get through their matches."

On the pitch, the Brewer boy's soccer team got back in the win column last week with a 4-0 victory over Weatherford.

"We did well controlling the game and playing the way we wanted to," coach Benjamin Buentello said.

Josh Muco, Ignacio Silva, Helio Flores, and Damian Merida all scored for the Bears and Silva, Dominic Caldera, and Muco all earned assists.

White Settlement VFW 5617 Auxiliary Welcomes New Officers

The Auxiliary to VFW Post 5617 welcomed newly elected officers on Tuesday, Jan. 13, marking the start of a fresh chapter dedicated to serving local veterans and the community.

Lydia Leal, Past District President, presided over the induction ceremony and introduced the officers to those in attendance, including VFW Post Commander Dean Borries.

Though newly installed, the officers are already eager to roll up their sleeves and begin their work, supporting veterans and carrying forward the Auxiliary's long-standing mission of service and community involvement.

City residents and members of the post congratulated the new leadership, celebrating their commitment and readiness to serve.

"This is just the beginning for these outstanding individuals," Leal said. "We know they'll make a meaningful impact for our veterans and our community."

The Auxiliary invites community members to get involved and support its programs, which focus on honoring veterans, assisting families, and strengthening ties across White Settlement.

From the General Edward H. Tarrant Chapter of the United States Daughters of 1812

Past Chapter President Joye Evetts Honored with Spirit of 1812 Medal

At the first meeting of the year on Jan. 15, the General Edward H. Tarrant Chapter of the United States Daughters of 1812 recognized one of its own for a lifetime of dedication to preserving the nation's history.

Past Chapter President Joye Evetts was awarded the Spirit of 1812 Medal by Jane Doclar, State Chair of the award, during the chapter's gathering at Ridglea Country Club.

The medal honors individuals or organizations with a distinguished record of study, promotion, and dedication to preserving the people, places, and events of the War of 1812.

The Spirit of 1812 represents more than historical knowledge; it celebrates those who embrace the culture of the era, a time of rising American nationalism, the "Second War for Independence" against Britain, and the "Era of Good Feelings" marked by new national symbols, heroic figures, and a push for economic self-reliance.

Evetts' contributions go beyond research and recognition. She has participated in historical plays and dramas that bring the period to life, inspiring others to learn more about the country's past.

She also authored a genealogy book to guide aspiring members toward discovering their own ancestral ties and pursuing membership in lineage societies.

"Joye doesn't just study history, she shares it in ways that educate, inspire, and grow our community," Doclar said during the presentation.

For those interested in exploring their family history or learning more about the Daughters of 1812 and its programs, contact the society at lineagesocieties@att.net.

Evetts' award is a reminder of the enduring impact one person can have in preserving the stories that shape a nation.

DAR Chapter Brings Revolutionary History to Life Through Needle and Thread

History came to life one stitch at a time as members of the Mary Isham Keith Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution gathered for their January meeting at Ridglea Country Club.

The program, titled “A Needle’s Eye View of History During the Revolutionary Period,” was presented by DAR Museum Correspondent Docents, who guided members through the story of early America using needlework and samplers dating from the early 1770s through about 1789. Along the way, members were invited to bring and share their own treasured pieces, turning the meeting into both a lesson and a show-and-tell of living history.

In appreciation for their presentation, each docent was presented

Come Out & Take an Icy Leap for Special Olympics

Community supporters are invited to take a chilly leap for a warm cause when the 2026 Polar Plunge returns to Splash Dayz in support of Special Olympics Texas.

The event is scheduled for Friday, March 27, at Splash Dayz, 405 N. Las Vegas Trail, and will benefit more than 10,000 Area 11 Special Olympics Texas athletes. Organizers say the plunge is open to participants of all ages. The cost to participate is $40 for adults and $25 for youth.

The event is hosted in partnership with Special Olympics Texas and the Law Enforcement Torch Run, with local support from the White Settlement Police Department and Splash Dayz.

DAR Museum Correspondent Docents are volunteers whose mission is to share the museum’s collections with communities through presentations and lectures. The DAR Museum, located at 1776 D St. NW in Washington, D.C., is open to the public and remains a cornerstone of the society’s original vision.

When the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution was founded in 1890, its leaders imagined “a place for the collection of historical relics... portraits, pictures, etc. ... in a fireproof building.” Today, that vision lives on in a museum that tells the American story through the objects and art of the American home, from the Colonial era through the 20th century.

As the only decorative arts museum in Washington, D.C., the DAR Museum collects, preserves and interprets everyday objects that reflect the human experience, including furniture, paintings, ceramics, textiles, costumes and metalwork. The museum features 31 period rooms and two galleries that host rotating exhibitions.

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution is a non-political women’s service organization whose members can trace their lineage to someone who helped secure American independence during the Revolutionary War.

Those interested in learning more about membership in the Mary Isham Keith Chapter may email mikregent2025@gmail.com.

communication-related classes, can be invited to participate in City Council meetings and community events. Their roles may include reading proclamations, helping with meeting presentations or taking part in other public-facing speaking and recognition duties at city events.

City leaders say the idea grew out of a desire to both invest in local youth and open the doors of city government a little wider.

For many students, standing at a podium in front of a room full of adults can be intimidating. Presentation Partners is designed to turn that nervous energy into experience, the kind that strengthens communication skills, builds self-assurance and sparks an interest in civic involvement that can last a lifetime.

Mayor Young and the City Council have voiced strong support for the program, calling it a win-win for both students and the community. Residents get to see young people step up and take part, and students get a front-row seat to how decisions are made and how a city serves its citizens.

Parents, teachers and students who want to learn more or sign up can find details and an interest form on the city’s website at wstx.us under the Presentation Partners page.

Edna Gladney: Texas Pioneer Who Changed the Lives of Thousands of Children

“It is easier to build strong children than it is to repair broken men,” is the famous quote from writer and abolitionist Frederick Douglass.

Countless men and women have dedicated their lives to helping children.

Most successful people in the world will point to those special influences from their childhoods for their inspiration. Texan Edna Gladney devoted her life to improving the lives of children, providing love and finding homes for children. Gladney began a movement that made life better for children across the state.

Gladney was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1886 to a young woman named Minnie Nell. Her mother was 17 at the time she gave birth and unmarried, considered scandalous at the time. Very little was known about her father. However, her mother later married a hard-working clerk. After her stepfather's death in 1904, her mother sent her to Fort Worth to live with relatives.

While living on Fort Worth, she met Sam Gladney. The two married in 1906. Already, she had an interest in helping children as she joined the board of directors for the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society by 1910. In 1913, she and her husband moved to Sherman where her husband opened the successful Gladney Milling Company. Gladney herself joined the Sherman Civic League and became deeply involved in local causes.

A visit to the Grayson County Poor Farm changed her life. Like many other southern counties, Grayson County had established a farm where the poor, mentally ill, homeless, orphans, and elderly could live and work to earn their rent. However, the facility had been neglected for years, and Gladney found children at the facility in appalling conditions. She began sending many of the orphans at the facility to the Texas Children's Home in Fort Worth. Along with other women in Sherman, she organized a free day care and kindergarten facility to help working women, financed by the Gladneys and local businesses.

In 1927, she was named superintendent of the children's home and worked tirelessly for the education of the children and attempting to find them good homes.

She believed that children should not carry the stigmas of their parents' actions. By the 1930s, she expanded the home's reach by adding programs to help unmarried mothers.

Gladney also began a campaign to change the state law to remove the word “illegitimate” from the birth certificates of children whose parents were unmarried or who were being given up for adoption. Supporters went so far as to say that she knocked on every door in Texas to make the change, though an exaggeration. In 1936, Gov. Jimmy Allred signed legislation ending the practice of marking children as “illegitimate” on their birth certificates.

Her work began to change many attitudes about children, ensuring that in loving homes there would not be a difference in treatment for “illegitimate” or “adopted” and those born under other circumstances, that they would all just be seen as children and as worthy of love and a chance for a good life as anyone else.

In 1941, a movie was made about Gladney's life and work, Blossoms in the Dust, though portions of the story were fictionalized. It starred famed actress Greer Garson as Gladney and Walter Pidgeon as her husband. The movie was nominated for four Academy Awards in 1942, including Best Picture and Garson for Best Actress. The film won the award for Best Art Direction.

In 1950, the children's home bought the adjacent West Texas Maternity Hospital, and the board of directors changed the name of the entire facility to the Edna Gladney Home in honor of her work.

She continued to work with abandoned and orphaned children for the rest of her life. She died in Fort Worth in 1961, having placed thousands of children in safe and loving homes.

The Edna Gladney Home continued the mission she had started after her passing. Within a few years of her death, the facility had expanded to include an on-site middle school and on-site high school, coordinating with Fort Worth school officials.

By the 1980s, the organization included services for expectant mothers off-site, counseling services, parenting classes, and services to help adopted children find their biological parents through a voluntary registry system.

In the 1990s, the home was renamed the Gladney Center for Adoption. It has now found homes for more than 20,000 children and celebrates a century-long tradition of providing hope and love for children.
